Dear Mr. Brundage:

It affords me great pleasure to tender on behalf of the people of the Empire State, a hearty welcome to all those attending the 1964 Shriners' Convention in New York City. I am exceedingly glad that you have chosen to meet and celebrate the Shriners' 90th anniversary in our City while our great World's Fair is in progress. Your special World's Fair Day will surely be a great and spectacular occasion.

I hope as many of you as possible will use this opportunity to visit also the many historic landmarks and scenes of beauty with which the Empire State abounds.

The Shriners are citizens for whom we all have respect, esteem and good will. My best wishes for a fruitful and very happy convention.

Sincerely,

Nelson A. Rockefeller

To the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine:

Welcome to the City of New York and the 90th Imperial Council Session.

It was here the Shrine was organized in 1872. In this City I was elected Imperial Outer Guard in 1953 and it is fitting that I conclude my services as Imperial Potentate where they began on the Imperial Divan.

With the World's Fair and the many attractions this Great City has to offer, I am confident your attendance will prove to be an experience that you will long remember.

Sincerely,

Harold C Close

To the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine:

We the members of the 1964 Imperial Council Session Corporation, convention committees, and staff of the Director General's office extend to you our sincere greetings and welcome you to New York.

My brother Nobles and I have been trying to arrange everything to make your pilgrimage to our city a pleasant one. We are delighted that so many of you have chosen to come to New York, especially during the first year of the World's Fair, and that you are helping to make this 90th Imperial Council Session a huge success.

It is our hope that you will avail yourselves of this great opportunity to greet old friends and make new ones, as you help to fulfill the Shrine's great tradition of fun and philanthropy.

As we meet and work together for the greater achievements of our brotherhood, let us enjoy ourselves to the fullest of our abilities and make this one of our greatest Imperial Council Sessions.

Make yourself at home in New York. The city is yours from July 19 through 24.

Most cordially yours,

Dear Nobles:

On behalf of the Divan Officers and the Nobility of Kismet Temple, Brooklyn, New York, I extend to you a most hearty welcome to the 90th Imperial Council Session of the Shrine for North America. It is a pleasure indeed to be co-host with our Mother Temple, Mecca, and to be able to bring to you the greatest convention in the history of the Shrine.

Since 1953 we have looked forward to the opportunity of again having you in our great city and every attempt has been made by us to make your stay one which will always be remembered. We are proud of the many attractions, including the World's Fair, which New York City has to offer our visiting Nobles, families and friends and sincerely hope that all of you will thoroughly enjoy your visit with us.

So again, a hearty welcome and have a wonderful time.

Why spend $369 more for an Einspritzer?

First off, what is an Einspritzer?

(Outside of being the E in SE. As in Mercedes-Benz 220SE. Or 300SE.)

Spritzer means sprayer. *Ein*spritzer means in-sprayer.

Or, in simple American, a fuel injector. A fuel injector does just what a carburetor does. But it does it much better.

That's because with a conventional carburetion system, one carburetor provides the fuel-and-air mixture for up to eight cylinders. With Einspritzers, each cylinder gets its fair share from its own individual spritzer. Result: the engine "breathes" easier.

Mercedes developed the Einspritzer on the racing track. It helped make Mercedes cars the undisputed kings of the Grand Prix circuit until they were retired from racing in 1955.

But Einspritzers cost far more to make than a conventional carburetor system. That's why the Mercedes 220SE, for instance, is $369 more than the 220S. Many Mercedes buyers can't see it. They point out that the 220S gives them all the speed and acceleration they'll ever want.

In fact, except for a few observant car buffs who look for things like whether it says 220S or SE on the back of your Mercedes, no one will know the difference anyway.

Until you pull up to a stop light. And the light turns green.

Spritz. Swish-h-h-h-h-h!

GEORGE H. ROWE

January 4, 1891 December 22, 1963

George H. Rowe, who was Imperial Potentate of the Shrine in 1946 and 1947, died December 22, 1963, at a nursing home in Buffalo, New York.

Before his retirement he served as a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York. Following graduation in 1909 from the University of Buffalo Law School, he engaged in private law practice until 1925 when he was elected county judge of Erie County. He was re-elected continuously until 1943, when he was elected to the State Supreme Court.

Judge Rowe became a Mason in May of 1913 when he was raised in Warren Patchin Lodge 883 in North Wayland, New York. He later became a charter member of East Gate Lodge 980 in Buffalo. He was elevated to the honorary 33° of the Scottish Rite in September 1945.

He also was a member of Oansville Chapter 91, Royal Arch Masons, and Lake Erie Commandery 20, Knights Templar. Judge Rowe held membership in Zuleika Grotto and was a life member of Buffalo Court 22, Royal Order of Jesters, which he served as a director in 1926 and 1927.

Judge Rowe became a member of Ismailia Temple May 2, 1916. He was elected its Potentate in 1928. For many years he served in important capacities for the Imperial Council and was named Imperial Outer Guard in 1936.

During World War II he was chairman of the Imperial Council's War Activities Committee. He received an official citation from the Treasury Department for his work in that capacity.

As Imperial Potentate, Judge Rowe led a campaign against international communism. He took the firm stand that it was a threat to the American way of life.

He said: "Fraternalism and religion will cease if communism breaks down our form of government and democracy."

Judge Rowe is survived by his son, George H. Rowe Jr., of Santa Ana, California, and his daugher, Mrs. Gloria J. De Vita, of Snyder, New York, and their children. His wife, Mae, died in 1961.

DR. CLAYTON FARRINGTON ANDREWS

June 28, 1888 March 27, 1964

Dr. Clayton Farrington Andrews, who served as Imperial Potentate of the Shrine in 1959 and 1960, died March 27 of this year in Lincoln, Nebraska.

A doctor by profession, he served with the Army Medical Corps during World War I, including seven months with Base Hospital No. 93 at Cannes, France.

One of Dr. Andrews' patients at Cannes was Miss Mildred R. Wells, to whom he became engaged. After he was separated from the Army, they were married in New York City in 1919.

A few weeks later Dr. and Mrs. Andrews established residence in Rochester, Minnesota, where he became a fellow in surgery at the Mayo Clinic. In 1923 the University of Minnesota conferred upon Dr. Andrews the degree of master of science in surgery. That year he establisned his practice in surgery at Lincoln, which he continued throughout his life.

Dr. Andrews had become a Master Mason at the age of 21. Shortly thereafter he was knighted by his father, who was Commander of Mount Moriah Commandery in St. Paul, Nebraska.

While in the Army, Dr. Andrews became a Noble of El Maida Temple, El Paso, Texas, in 1918. He received the Scottish Rite degrees there.

When he moved to Rochester, he demitted to Osman Temple in St. Paul, and was president of the Rochester Shrine Club. After moving to Lincoln, he demitted to Sesostris Temple. In Lincoln he became active in ritualistic and membership activities of the Scottish Rite Bodies and was coronated 33° Honorary in 1939.

Dr. Andrews was Potentate of Sesostris Temple in 1941 and was one of the founders of the Central States Shrine Association. He served as its president in 1946. He held membership in The Cabiri, was a member and past director of Lincoln Court 118, Royal Order of Jesters, and a member of the Grand Council, Order of DeMolay. He also established and was chairman of the committee on medical records of the Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children.

Mecca, Kismet Temples Serve As Co-Hosts for 90th Session

MECCA TEMPLE

Mecca Temple, co-host Temple for this year's Imperial Council Session, has the distinction of being the "Mother Temple" of the Shrine.

Thirteen fun-loving Masons got together for luncheon in the spring of 1870 at a restaurant in Manhattan. Out of that meeting grew the organization that came to be known as the Ancient Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Informal agreements on the prerequisites for Shrine membership were undoubtedly made among the men who attended that first meeting. Formal organization of the Shrine had to be delayed, therefore, until Dr. Walter Fleming — who is credited with the idea for the fraternity — had fulfilled the requirements. He received the fourth to 32nd degrees in Brooklyn's Aurora Grata Cathedral on May 31, 1871, and the way was cleared for the group to start.

Two weeks later, the first meeting of the founders of the Shrine was held officially in New York's Masonic Hall. On March 19, 1872, Dr. Fleming signed the bylaws of Columbian Commandery No. 1, thus completing all of the Masonic degrees prior to the official founding of Mecca Temple on September 26, 1872.

Dr. Fleming, aided by William J. Florence, a popular actor of the time and one of the original 13, had conceived the idea of the group and felt that the concept of Arabic costumes and rituals would help make it a popular fraternity.

From those early days, Mecca Temple grew rapidly and, within a few years, other Temples began to be formed in other parts of the United States and, eventually, all over North America.

By the late 1920s Mecca Temple had moved into a Mosque on West 55th Street in Manhattan. In the 1930s it again moved and, finally, early this year, the Temple relocated in its new quarters in the Hotel New Yorker, Eighth Avenue and West 34th Street in Manhattan.

Through the years Mecca Temple has held many impressive ceremonies, including memorable ones in such places as the famed Hippodrome and Carnegie Hall. It has counted among its members many famous theatrical people.

Mecca Temple — and indeed the Shrine — has traveled a long way in its 92 years. Its position as the Mother Temple of the noble fraternity quickens the hearts of its 4,800 members.

KISMET TEMPLE

Organized as the 37th Temple in the Order of the Mystic Shrine, co-host Kismet Temple has had but two meeting places in its 77-year history.

Kismet was granted a dispensation by the Imperial Council in 1887. Receiving the dispensation were Wayland Trask, Grand Potentate, Charles P. Abbey, Alonzo Brymer, Joseph P. Abel, James E. Conor, Juan B. Arci, Edward A. Devean, J. T. Baldwin, William Elbert, Orlando Bennett, Harry M. Gardner Jr., J. B. Bowden and Edwin Gates.

Following a preliminary session, the Temple's next meeting was held on September 23, 1887, in Aurora Grata Cathedral, Bedford Avenue and Madison Street, at which location the Temple was to remain until it moved to its present Mosque at 92 Herkimer Street, Brooklyn, in 1910.

A charter was granted to the Temple at the meeting of the Imperial Council held in Toronto, Canada, in June 1888. At the annual session of the Imperial Council held at Kansas City, Missouri, June 11, 1901, Kismet Temple was granted exclusive jurisdiction over Long Island.

On April 10, 1903, Kismet Temple, AAONMS, was incorporated under the Benevolent Orders Laws of the State of New York.

On October 31, 1907, a resolution was proposed by William O. Campbell, empowering the Potentate to appoint a committee to consider the advisability of constructing a Mosque. This resulted in the building of the beautiful home on Herkimer Street, which at the time of its dedication on March 28, 1910, was considered by many to be the largest and best equipped Shrine Mosque in North America.

The indebtedness of the Mosque was paid in full in 1920. To celebrate this event, the Trustees, with the consent of the Temple, donated $10,000 to the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund of Grand Lodge to purchase equipment for the Memorial Hospital then being completed at Utica.

Kismet Temple has had 42 Potentates, each of whom contributed to the success and continued growth of the Temple.

With a membership now numbering more than 5,500 it is the endeavor of the Temple and its members to emulate the example of their predecessors so that their successors may look back and say with true sincerity, "They Builded Better Than They Knew."

Noble Fraternity Was Started In 1872 by 13 New Yorkers

In the spring and summer of 1870, a craze over the number 13 swept New York City as an aftermath of the Civil War. During that year nearly a century ago, 13 fun-loving Masons who were ardent devotees of the craze started a luncheon group that has grown into one of the largest fraternal and philanthropic organizations in North America: the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Today the 835,000-member organization claims as members many of the continent's most distinguished citizens.

The Shrine has also gained worldwide recognition for its work in supporting the 17 Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children that are operated at an annual budget of $9.5 million. Since 1922, the crippled children's hospitals have treated more than 130,000 boys and girls of all races, colors and creeds who otherwise were doomed to a life of disappointment, pain and isolation.

The hospital program was expanded in 1962 when the Shriners voted $10 million to construct three facilities for the treatment of burned children. Completion of the three Shriners' Institutes for Children's Burns will add $3.6 million to the Shrine's annual philanthropic expenses.

Much of the Shrine's initial appeal can be traced to the colorful costumes, ceremonies and pageantry — all with an Arabic or Near East caste. Adding to the glamour of the organization were the legends about the history and origins of the Shrine rituals. Of only academic interest today, these legends were the center of much controversy at the time regarding their truth.

Shrine Origin Clouded by Legends

The most popular story traced the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine to Mecca, Arabia, where — the legend said — it was founded by Kalif Alee, son-in-law of the Prophet Mohammed in 644 AD.

Permission to launch the Mystic Shrine in North America, another story said, was given Dr. Walter Fleming by one Rizk Allah Hassoon Effendee, who had brought to London in 1860 a copy of the original ritual, which was supposed to be in the Archives of the Order at Alleppo, Syria. Author of the ritual was the great Persian poet, Alnasafi the Jafiz, the story said.

A Shrine history published in 1877 said the North American Shrine was an offshoot of the Bektashy, or Order of the Crescent, established in Mecca in the Sixth Century.

These are the legends — and even to this day, some might be found to argue their veracity.

Pure fact, however, is the presentation made in the spring of 1870 by Dr. Fleming and William J. Florence of the idea for establishment of an order known as the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America.

Crescent Adopted as Official Insignia

Fleming was a successful New York physician and Florence was a popular actor and comedian. In 1872, Fleming called the 13 members together to organize Mecca Temple, first of the 167 Temples now existing in North America.

The crescent was adopted as official insignia of the Order. In the center was the head of a sphinx, on the back of which was pyramid, urn and star on the back of which was pyramid, urn and star. It contained the date of the reception of the Order and the Latin motto "Robur et Furor," signifying strength and fury.

During the first four years of Mecca Temple, there were little activity and only 43 Nobles; but in 1876 at a fourth meeting of the Temple, the Imperial Council for North America was formed and Walter Fleming became Imperial Potentate. The council also adopted the proposition to make the Order of Nobles an organization for the exercise of charity, the improvement of the mind and the ally of the Fraternity of Free Masonry in the United States.

By 1878, the Shrine had 425 members in 13 Temples and was starting to come into its own as an organization. By 1886, the Order had grown to more than 3,000 members with 19 Temples.

The Shrine continued a pattern of steady growth throughout the country. The first major charity was undertaken by the Order in August of 1888 during the yellow fever epidemic in Jacksonville, Florida, when almost 5,000 persons were affected and 427 died from the virus. Among those who worked hardest to fight the fever was Dr. Joseph Y. Porter, who carried card No. 17 in Morocco Temple. The officers and members of Morocco Temple, aided by associate Knights Templar, organized themselves into a relief corps to aid the victims.

In successive years each Imperial Potentate urged Shriners everywhere to carry on works of Characteristic of the Shrine throughout the years has been its ability to attract outstanding men. Leaders in business, government, military, entertainment and countless other fields who represent talent, ability and achievement have worn the Shrine insignia. Among them: General Douglas MacArthur, Chief Justice Earl Warren, former President Harry S. Truman, J. Edgar Hoover, Eddie Rickenbacker, General Mark Clark, General James H. Doolittle, Admiral Ernest J. King, Sinclair Weeks, Arthur E. Summerfield, Thomas E. Dewey, Harold Lloyd, Irving Berlin, General Jonathan M. Wainwright, General Claire L. Chennault, Edgar A. Guest, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Cecil B. DeMille, Ty Cobb and Sigmund Romberg.

The 17 Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children represent an investment of $25 million and are operated at an annual budget of $9.5 million Each 30-bed burn center will operate with an annual budget of about $1.2 million.

Football Games Raise Hospital Funds

Temples throughout the country sponsor football games each year to raise money for support of these hospitals. The most famous football classic is the East-West College All-Star Game in San Francisco. In 1962 more than $1.3 million was raised from athletic and other events, and some 41 football games are scheduled for this year.

From the very beginning, the fun-loving Shriners have taken great pride in their parades. The first of the thousands held all over North America — that were to become more resplendent with each passing year — was held in Baltimore on June 7, 1884.

The first national parade, held in Omaha, was described by the Omaha World-Herald in 1892 as a glittering pageant from start to finish. "Noise! Shriners! Dress Suits! Noise! Red Fire! Shriners! Sky Rockets! Camels! Elephants! More noise! More dress suits! More fezzes! And that was the grand parade of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine last evening and it was one of the most unique sights that has been seen in Omaha in years. There were 1,600 Shriners in the line, marching 12 abreast and they made a fine display in their dress suits and red fezzes . . ."

The George Washington Masonic National Memorial in Washington, D.C., is the result of a movement started in 1910 by the Masonic fraternity to provide proper housing for the Masonic relics. Ground for the structure was not broken until 1922, and on May 12, 1932, the building was dedicated in Alexanderia, Virginia. Here the heart of Shrinedom is seen in three rooms: The "Shrine Room," "Hospital Room" and "Imperial Room."

The Shrine Room contains a variety of exhibits typifying the varied activities of the Mystic Shrine. These are a mechanical Shrine parade of miniature uniformed units, an expansive relief map of North America with light bulbs to designate the location of Shrine Temples and Hospitals, oil paintings of Nobles Warren G. Harding, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, a case with the official red fez of each Shrine Temple, a replica of each Shrine Hospital and various historic exhibits.

"The Temple of Baby Smiles"

The Hospital Room, dedicated to the Trustees of Shriners' Hospitals, contains paintings of the original Board of Hospital Trustees, the Sphinx Trophy, the Book of Gold and a mural of crippled children who have been cured of their afflictions. This room is also referred to as "The Temple of Baby Smiles."

In the Imperial Room hangs a 50-foot mural, "The Pilgrimage to Mecca," gift of the Aleppo Temple of Boston in memory of Shrinedom's war veterans. Here also are oil paintings of all Past Imperial Potentates, Past Imperial Treasurers and Past Imperial Recorders. The room also contains the altars of Shrinedom, an oil painting of William J. Florence and the 13 official chairs of the Imperial Divan.

Imperial headquarters of the Shrine and national headquarters of the Shriners' Hospitals — two separate corporations — are located at 323 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

The Shrine has no official auxiliary but over the years has included wives in many of the social activities of the Temples. In addition to the 167 Shrine Temples, there are approximately 2,200 Shrine Clubs that are located in towns within a Temple's jurisdiction. Shrine Clubs are organized by, and remain under the control of, the Potentate of the Temple. From the clubs come a large portion of the new petitions for Temples.

Pilgrimages to Hawaii Started

In 1901 Imperial Potentate Lou B. Winsor organized a pilgrimage to Hawaii to constitute Aloha Temple. This was the first of many pilgrimages made to Hawaii, and now each Imperial Potentate makes the Imperial cruise to the islands. Pilgrimages are also made by Nobles throughout the country to visit with their Fraternal associates and to see the wonders of the world.

From its humble beginning the Shrine has grown to be an important and colorful force in American life. It is an organization of more than 835,000 men bound together by the love of fun, pageantry and philanthropy.

Members Help More Children As Shrine Charities Grow

This 90th annual Imperial Council Session marks the 42nd year of a dream come true, and the beginning of a new era of Shrine philanthropy. The dream, giving heart to all Shrinedom, became a reality on September 16, 1922, when the first Shrine hospital for orthopedically crippled children was opened in Shreveport, Louisiana.

At that time little was being done to help the child who had been born deformed, crippled by disease or maimed by injury. But within four years after that day in 1922, 15 of the present 17 hospitals had been built.

Since then, bound together by this cause, the Shrine has won international recognition as one of the world's great philanthropies. Credit for much of this recognition must be given to the foresight of those men who set up the original rules and regulations that to this day govern the criteria for admission to these hospitals. Children, regardless of race, creed or color, who come from families unable to pay for orthopedic care, are accepted. To date more than 130,000 crippled children have been treated and healed in Shrine Hospitals.

In terms of dollars, the hospitals represent an investment of $25 million and are operated at an annual budget of some $9.5 million. Since 1922 approximately $75 million has been spent for operating expenses alone.

Today the Shrine is embarking on a new era in philanthropy with the appropriation of $10 million for the building of three Shriners' Institutes for Children's Burns devoted exclusively to burns treatment, research and education.

A visitor to any one of the 17 Shrine hospitals is greeted not with the familiar aseptic smell and white starched rigidity so often associated with other hospitals. Rather, he is met with the laughter and shouts of happy children. There are school rooms, so that children will lose no school time during their long hospitalization. There are entertainment and fun so that the children do not have to miss this necessary ingredient of childhood. Each hospital has its own library and welcomes additional books suitable for children. Games, swmming, music and other diversions have their part in the training program to give stimulus to the training. Many hospitals have occupatonal therapists. There is research to find answers that may hold the key to preventing some of the crippling deformities sending the children to the hospitals.

Shrine hospitals symbolize an investment in hope and a continuing inspiration to all those who would seek a worthy cause for unselfish giving and service. It is a dedicated effort shared by all of Shrinedom and the doctors, nurses and technicians who bring the gifts of skill and healing to crippled and handicapped children.

Each hospital is a masterpiece of architecture and is quality constructed. The best equipment is used throughout, augmented as rapidly as is practicable with the newest and latest developments.

Crippled children are treated in 17 hospitals.

With the advice and counsel of an outstanding Advisory Board of Orthopedic Surgeons, highly skilled orthopedic surgeons specializing in children's cases head each hospital staff, ably assisted by capable doctors and nurses. Cures and carefully detailed corrections are noted in case files that, in time to come, will make valuable contributions to medical science.

Through the years the Shrine pageantry and parades have grown bigger and more spectacular, but so has the Shrinedom's contribution. The money for these hospitals and the Burns Institutes comes from many sources. These include an annual assessment of $5 from each Shriner, income from investments, permanent hospital life memberships, voluntary hospital life memberships, wills and bequests of Shriners and non-Shriners, gifts and contributions from many people, and money raised by individual Temples from many sources.

This, however, is only the beginning. There will always be children to be helped, and there will always be Shriners to help them.

Baseball player Clay Dalrymple visits a hospital.

Three Burns Institutes Expand Shrine Activities

Ground was broken last month in Galveston, Texas, for what is to be the first of three new Shriners' Institutes for Children's Burns. It is expected that this venture will begin a new era in Shrine philanthropy.

Approximately 11,500 children are hospitalized each year with burns. In fact, some authorities call burns the largest single hazard of childhood. Unlike polio and some of the child cripplers of the past, burn prevention falls outside the medical field.

One-half of the children who have 50 per cent or more of their bodies burned die from the effects. And when 40 per cent of a person's body is burned, treatment usually costs at least $10,000 — far more than the average family can readily afford.

This extremely high cost makes burns therapy and treatment one of our country's greatest unmet medical needs. Because of the tremendous amount of work and the prolonged convalescence necessary, it's difficult to treat a severely burned child in a general hospital unless special facilities are available. At present there is only one burns center in the country in an Army hospital.

In setting aside $10 million to build these three Institutes — to be located in Boston and Cincinnati as well as Galveston — the AAONMS is taking another step forward in its never-ending quest to help save the lives of youngsters.

These centers will be dedicated to saving the lives of children and to preventing the deformities and disabilities that so often result from severe burns. But much time and effort will also be devoted to research in burns therapy and to instruction of medical personnel in the care and treatment of burned children. Thus, the new Shriners' Burns Institutes will have much more than a local effect.

These hospitals will be operated in association with three of the country's top medical schools; each will have 30 beds and be 100 per cent charitable. Any child, regardless of race, creed or color, who is under 15 and is unable to afford private treatment will have a much better chance to be saved from the awful torment and scars of burns.

The Shriners, long famous for their work to save crippled children's limbs, are now reducing another fear for all mothers.

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR 1964-1965 CORP.

There's More to Do in the City Than Go to the World's Fair

The New York World's Fair focuses attention on one of the great and perennially popular vacation areas of the world. New York is the entertainment, cultural and financial center of the nation, a great educational center, and, as headquarters of the United Nations, an international capital. But to many people — lots of Shriners and their families among them — this exciting and glamorous city is first and foremost a fascinating vacation goal.

Here you find outstanding hotels, restaurants that serve the cuisines of the world, night clubs that set the styles in after-dark entertainment around the globe, shops that rival Paris as fashion centers, famous art galleries and museums, symphony, opera and ballet, zoos and botanical gardens. The New York theater is the goal of actors and playwrights. Baseball fans cheer the American League Yankees and the National League Mets. Just to stroll along Fifth Avenue, feel the bustle of Times Square, or look down on this amazing town from the towering Empire State Building is a thrilling experience for many.

To some visitors New York is Manhattan Island, but Manhattan is only one segment of this complex metropolis. There are four other boroughs, each of them a great city — the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond (Staten Island). At the city's doorstep is 120-mile Long Island and to the north is a suburban and commuting area along the Hudson River and Long Island Sound.

Transportation: Most major transportation lines provide service to New York City. Main highways in the surrounding areas include the Thruway (Interchanges 1-16), Taconic, Palisades, Westchester, Merritt parkways, Interstate 95, Route 9, 9W, 17.

Air Terminals: Three major airports and two heliports serve the New York City area.

John F. Kennedy International Airport sees more than 800 aircraft land and take off every day. Every major airline operates here. Operations can be viewed from an Observation Deck (adults 10¢) on the International Arrival Building, or from the Observatory atop the Control Tower (adults 50¢, children under 12, 25¢) Wed-Fri 2-10 pm, Sat-Sun noon-10 pm. The Flite-seer, a sightseeing train, operates Wed-Sun 11-7 (adults 70¢-50¢, under 12 yrs 35¢-25¢, no service in winter).

LaGuardia Airport handles domestic flights.

The Long Island-Airports Limousine Service Corporation operates between Nassau and Suffolk counties and Kennedy and LaGuardia Airports.

Downtown Heliport, Pier 6, East River near Wall Street, service to airports.

West 30th Street Heliport, on Hudson River, charter service.

Newark Airport in New Jersey also serves Metropolitan New York handling domestic flights.

Bus Terminal: Intercity buses use the Port Authority Bus Terminal, Eighth Avenue at 41st Street.

Railroads: Passenger service into New York reaches Grand Central Terminal, East 42nd Street at Vanderbilt Avenue, or Pennsylvania Station, West 31st at Seventh Avenue. Service to numerous Long Island communities is provided by the Long Island Railroad from Pennsylvania Station.

Subway: The fastest and safest transportation system in the country is the subway which carries seven million passengers a day. Direct service to the World's Fair is provided from Times Square by 430 new blue and white cars. A free guide and map is available from the New York City Transit Authority, 370 Jay Street, Brooklyn 1, N.Y.

Toll Bridges: Bayonne (Bayonne, N. J. to Staten Island) 50¢. George Washington (Ft. Lee, N. J. to 178th Street, Manhattan) 50¢. Goethals (Elizabeth, N. J. to Staten Island) 50¢. Outerbridge Crossing (Perth Amboy, N. J. to Staten Island) 50¢. Bronx-Whitestone (Bronx to Queens) 25¢. Triborough (Bronx to Manhattan to Queens) 25¢. Throgs Neck (Bronx to Queens) 25¢ Cross Bay Parkway (Queens to the Rockaway) 10¢. Henry Hudson (Bronx to Manhattan) 10¢. Marine Parkway (Brooklyn to the Rockaways) 10¢.

Ferries (24-hr. operation): Staten Island (Manhattan to Staten Island), cars 60¢, pedestrians 5¢; Brooklyn (Brooklyn to Staten Island), cars 65¢, pedestrians 5¢.

Tunnels: Brooklyn-Battery (Brooklyn to Manhattan) 35¢. Holland (Jersey City, N. J. to Manhattan) 50¢. Lincoln (Weehawken, N. J. to Manhattan) 50¢. Queens-Midtown (Manhattan to Queens) 25¢.

Boat Trips: Each line has a variety of trips. The trip around Manhattan Island takes about three hours.

Circle Line, Pier 83, West 43rd Street; Hudson River Day Line, Pier 81, West 41st Street; Statue of Liberty Boat, Staten Island Ferry, the Battery.

Sightseeing Buses: American Sightseeing Lines, 168 West 46th Street; Blue Line, 116 West 42nd Street; Crossroads Sightseeing Tours, 1572 Broadway at 47th Street; Gray Line, 460 West

Aerial Sightseeing: New York Airways, La Guardia Airport, operates a helicopter sightseeing service from Downtown Heliport, Pier 6. Flights (three seats, $5 each) daily.

Here are some of the city's highlights that are well worth seeing.

The Statue of Liberty, on Liberty Island in New York Harbor, has greeted generations of newcomers to these shores. Now a national monument, this world-famous symbol of freedom was presented to the U.S. by France, and dedicated on October 28, 1886. It commemorates the alliance between the two countries during the American Revolution. The 152-foot figure, raised on a 150-foot pedestal, is the work of Auguste Bartholdi. The new American Museum of Immigration is located at its base. Boats run hourly (more frequently in summer) from Battery Park, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Fare is 80¢ for adults; 40¢ for children under 12.

The Staten Island Ferry, the only direct transportation link between Manhattan and Staten Island, provides excellent views of the world's busiest harbor and the famous lower Manhattan skyline. Other sights on the five-mile voyage include The Statue of Liberty, described above; historic fortifications on Governor's Island, headquarters of the U.S. First Army; and Ellis Island, immigration center from 1892 to 1954. Boats leave at frequent intervals from a terminal near The Battery. Fare is 5¢.

Marine Museum of the Seamen's Church Institute, 25 South Street, has a famous collection of ship models and seamen's handiwork. Open daily 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Wall Street was the nothern limit of the city in 1653, when the Dutch built a wooden palisade here to protect the colony from Indian attack. Now world famous as America's financial nerve center, it has played an important role in the history of New York and the nation. At the head of the street is Trinity Church, chartered in 1697. Alexander Hamilton and Robert Fulton are among the famous people buried in its churchyard. The present church, dedicated in 1846, is the third on the site. Federal Hall National Memorial marks the site of Washington's inauguration as first President of the U.S. in 1789. It contains a museum of the Colonial and early Federal periods in New York. (Open Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Free.) Diagonally across the street is the New York Stock Exchange, the nation's largest organized market for stocks and bonds. (Free guided tours Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Entrance to Exhibit Hall and visitors' gallery at 20 Broad Street.) Nearby, at 86 Trinity Place, is the American Stock Exchange, the country's second largest securties market, and the leading exchange for foreign securities. (Visitors' gallery open Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-3:30 p.m.) At 33 Liberty Street is the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, a bank for banks. Foreign countries deposit their gold here for safekeeping, and settle international accounts by transferring gold bricks from one vault to another. Mon.-Fri. 9:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Free tours by appointment.

City Hall, in City Hall Park at Broadway and Fulton Street, has been the seat of New York's municipal government since 1811. An outstanding example of Federal period architecture, it is considered among the most beautiful buildings in America. The Governor's Room (Mon.-Fri. 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.) contains a notable collection of historic portraits and antique furniture, including the desks of the first three Presidents of the U.S.

Brooklyn Bridge, opposite City Hall Park, was one of the great engineering milestones of the 19th Century. Opened in 1883, it still ranks among the world's greatest suspension spans. Walk across for a fine view of Lower Manhattan and the Harbor.

Chinatown, a tangle of narrow streets just west of Chatham Square, has been the center of New York's large Chinese community for more than 100 years. It has many interesting shops and fine restaurants—and even the telephone booths are in Chinese style.

The Bowery, whose cheap restaurants and flophouses have made it a gathering place for homeless men, stretches from Chatham Square to Cooper Square. Some of its dingy old buildings were fashionable homes 150 years ago. It later became the city's theatrical center.

Greenwich Village, extends west of Broadway from 14th Street southward to about Spring Street. Rich in history, its quaint old houses have sheltered many famous artists and writers. The main streets are lined with a fascinating array of little craft and curio shops, restaurants, art galleries, coffee houses and "off-Broadway" theatres. Among its most famous landmarks is Washington Arch in Washington Square at the foot of Fifth Avenue. Designed by Stanford White, it was erected in 1893.

Cooper Union, at Cooper Square, is an art and engineering college founded by Peter Cooper in 1859. The Great Hall of its brownstone main building was the scene of the speech which catapulted Lincoln to national fame in 1860.

Here are eight different ways to say quality and each Ford Motor Company car proves the meaning of the words . . .

Ford-built means better built

The way you express yourself—in words or automobiles—is a personal thing. The infinite variety of individual tastes is one reason why we offer such a wide selection of makes and models in the Ford Family of Fine Cars. Differences in our products are obvious; similarities are in critical areas where to differ would be to offer less than the best. Every Ford-built car is packed with built-in extra-value features which make it last longer and serve you better.

Here are a few features that all Ford-built cars have in common: double coats of primer and triple coats of tough, chip-resistant enamel oven-baked to a diamond-bright finish; doors with steel panels inside and out to make them more solid . . . help prevent annoying rattles; Cushion Recoil action suspension systems that allow wheels to "roll with the punches"; rigidized bodies of extra-strong construction to give you a more solid and silent ride. Whichever model you choose to express your own taste, you'll find Ford-built means better built.

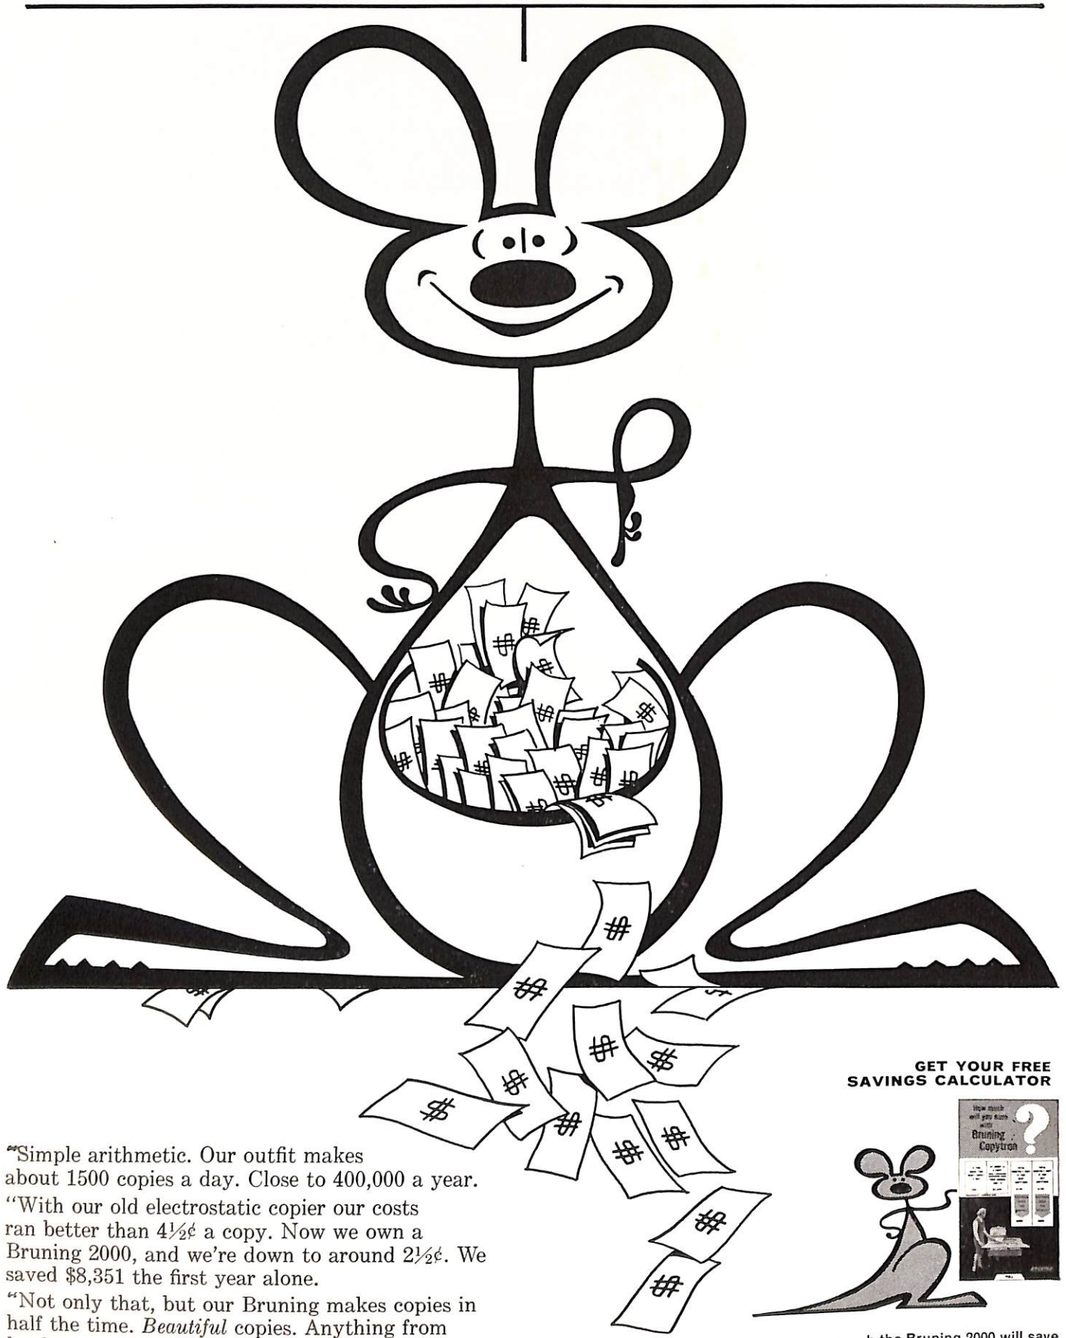
I POCKETED $8,351 THE FIRST YEAR I CHANGED TO BRUNING



"Simple arithmetic. Our outfit makes about 1500 copies a day. Close to 400,000 a year.

"With our old electrostatic copier our costs ran better than 4½¢ a copy. Now we own a Bruning 2000, and we're down to around 2½¢. We saved $8,351 the first year alone.

"Not only that, but our Bruning makes copies in half the time. Beautiful copies. Anything from bank-check size to 11 x 17.

"Makes me hopping mad we didn't get a Bruning earlier!"

IMPORTED

No whisky so light in body was ever so brilliant in flavor.

No whisky so deeply satisfying was ever so soft and subtle.

No imported whisky was ever so much at home throughout the world as V.O. It is rightfully considered the world's finest whisky.

Everyone would like to make such a whisky. Only Seagram can.
